Your perfect lifestyle awaits!

An aerial perspective of a vibrant urban district. The scene is dominated by several tall, modern skyscrapers with glass and metal facades, some featuring unique architectural details like curved tops or cantilevered sections. In the foreground, a wide, multi-lane street is filled with pedestrians, cars, and bicycles. A large, modern building with a distinctive, angular, glass-and-wood roof structure sits prominently on the left side of the street. The street is lined with lush green trees and modern streetlights. In the background, more city buildings are visible under a clear blue sky. The overall atmosphere is one of a thriving, modern city.

THE OXFORD STORY

Oxford invests in, develops and manages some of the world's best real estate. We drive social and economic growth through real estate – safeguarding the future and creating a brighter world for customers, partners, communities and the environment.

We've been building the future for six decades. Today our portfolio crosses four continents, five sectors and 100 million square feet. That scale and breadth is a big competitive advantage and gives us unique perspective and access. Our portfolio is focused on premium properties in the best locations. The kind of places where people and companies want to be.

OUR DEVELOPMENT STORY: PLACES BUILT TO INSPIRE CONNECTION

From single properties to city-defining mixed-use districts, we're reimagining places with a focus on people. Our development projects span five sectors and four continents. They pioneer new sustainability, technology and well-being solutions, and shape the future of how we live, work, learn and play. Our scale allows us to engage the best architects, planners, placemakers and designers. The global reach of our business gives us vision and expertise, our local teams and partners give us insights and nuances honed on-the-ground – together, they create enduring social and economic value.

NEXT LEVEL SUSTAINABILITY

Thinking sustainably is a requirement for doing good business and delivering long-term value. We know there's a lot we can do to move the industry forward and we take that responsibility seriously. For more than 15 years, we've been pioneering the industry's sustainability practices with full transparency – reducing our impact, raising market expectations and inspiring others to do the same. Fast Company recognized this winning formula and named us one of the world's most innovative companies for our approach to tackling climate change.

Park Hyatt: A Toronto Landmark is Reborn

At the corner of Avenue and Bloor, an urban renaissance is taking place. The historic transformation of The Park Hyatt Toronto will include the restoration of the south heritage tower for office use and sixty-five luxury one- and two-bedroom rentals, each with access to hotel amenities and unrivalled views of the city. The hotel will have fewer, more richly appointed hotel rooms and will be well positioned to compete with Toronto's top luxury hotels.

Pitt Street: Building Closer Connections in Sydney

In line with our plan to invest in high-quality assets in global gateway cities, our plans for the Pitt Street development represents a major milestone in Sydney's residential market. As the first large-scale build-to-rent tower in the city centre, the 39-storey building will deliver 230 apartments in combination with office and retail space, planned above the new Pitt Street Metro Station. It will be an iconic, vibrant public place that celebrates inclusivity and looks to the future.

PITT STREET – OXFORD

Hudson Yards: Shaping Manhattan's West Side

In a partnership with Related Companies, we developed an 18 million square foot mixed use project in New York City, the largest private real estate development in the history of the United States, and the largest development in the city since the 1930s. This transformative project was built entirely over a working rail yard, bringing commerce, community and connectivity to a previously underutilized space.
